

North America

Frimley Learners

Learning together and independently – We will be presenting key facts about North America to the class.

Enthusiastic – We will be learning about the discovery of America.

Ambitious – We will be designing and creating our own totem poles.

Resilient – We will work as mathematicians to improve our mental methods and apply them in our work.

Naturally Curious – We will be exploring the physical and human features of North America.

Enterprising – We will be planning a virtual trip across the United States of America.

Risk taking – We will be reporting on what happened to Snow White and King Kong in New York.

Self-aware – We will be thinking about how the discovery of America affected the indigenous people.