

Journey into the unknown

Frimley Learners

Learning together and independently – We will explore Shackleton's Incredible Expedition.

Enthusiastic – We will inspire others to go on a journey, learning a new skill or visiting somewhere new.

Ambitious – We will use stop motion to create thought provoking animations about global warming.

Resilient – We will learn about Shackleton and how he and his men showed resilience when stranded on the ice.

Naturally Curious – We will find out about the polar regions, including the climate and abundance of life that live there.

Enterprising – We will explore survival and what is needed to survive 'life in the freezer'.

Risk taking – We will inform others about the effects of global warming.

Self-aware – We will explore what is essential for us to lead successful happy lives – what we really need!
