

Chocolate

Frimley Learners

Learning together and independently – We will research the origins of chocolate.

Enthusiastic – We will have great fun making some of our own chocolate.

Ambitious – We will design our own chocolate products and their packaging.

Resilient – We will try to emulate Fintan Fedora's resilience on his journey to find the mythical Chocoplum.

Naturally Curious – We will strive to find out how we can apply our mathematical knowledge to problem solving.

Enterprising – We will run our own chocolate making business to raise funds.

Risk taking – We will taste our own chocolately creations.

Self-aware – We will carry on independently editing and improving our work.
