14th February 2019

Dear Parents,

As an introduction to our new text 'Fintan Fedora: World's Worst Explorer', we'd like to ensure that the children are better prepared for exploring than Fintan ever was. To start our adventurers on their way to success, we will have a one-day beginners' crash-course in exploring, on Wednesday 27th February. In order to comply with 'National Explorer Regulations', we ask that all children dress appropriately as the intrepid explorers we know they will become.

Bonus points for those modelling themselves on a famous explorer and double bonus points if they come armed with information about their explorer!

Yours sincerely,

Year 3 Team

P.S No pen knives, survival knives, axes or fire lighting equipment please!
